CARL HENTSCH

Carl started quilting in the late 1990s. He did not come from a quilting family, but there was always some sort of handwork going on around him. His mother was a seamstress, his aunt knitted, and his sister Nancy loved to draw. Carl learned sewing, knitting, and pattern making at an early age, probably around ten or so.

In 2000, Carl moved to Denver, where he discovered his first quilt shop, block-of-the-month projects, and tons of fabric. He dabbled over the years, still watching his favorite TV shows to learn more. It was when he moved to St. Joseph, Missouri, in 2006 that Carl started to delve deeper into his passion for quilting. "I found a lot of quilt shops in Kansas City and participated in a few sampler quilts and blocks-of-the-month." By doing these projects, one block at a time, Carl honed his skills.

Carl is author of three best-selling quilt books: "Stars 'N Strips Forever," "Amish Inspired Quilts for Today's Home," and "New York Beauties and Flying Geese." He learned by watching Eleanor Burns, Alex Anderson, and Fons and Porter. He had his original designs displayed in American Quilting Society Shows in Knoxville and Des Moines, as well as a traveling quilt with the 2010 and 2012 Hoffman Challenge. Carl displayed his quilts at the Houston Quilt Festival 2018 in a special exhibit, "Making the Modern Traditional and the Traditional Modern." He is published in a variety of magazines including, "American Patchwork and Quilting," "Love of Quilting," "Quilty," "Generation Q," and "Modern Quilts Unlimited." Carl books travel in the U.S. for numerous quilt guilds teaching and lecturing on his designs.
