NEEDLEWORK DESIGNER JEAN FARISH

Jean founded Jean Farish Needleworks in 1981 and teaches needlepoint, counted cross stitch, and other forms of counted thread. She especially loves all forms of whitework. Jean became a needlework designer because of her love of color, design, and math. She sees the world in a grid of linen and canvas! Her teaching style is methodical and very much step-by-step with a good dose of humor thrown in for good measure. She wants her students to learn in a relaxed atmosphere and to leave the class feeling good about what they are doing. She calls it developing "stitch confidence" and that is important to her, emphasis is on learning, more than on teaching. Jean calls Winston-Salem home as she says, "A beautiful city with a rich history in the rolling hills of North Carolina's Piedmont region." When traveling she looks forward to Camaraderie ... that indescribable connection with kindred spirits that happens when needle workers get together; seeing the sights in so many amazing places; and hours and hours of stitching time!

Marianne Willburn is a gardening columnist, speaker, tour guide, and author of Tropical Plants and How to Love Them and Big Dreams, Small Garden.

A writer at GardenRant, and a regular contributor to Better Homes and Gardens, The American Gardener, and other national gardening magazines, Marianne has also been a weekly newspaper columnist for over a decade and is the recipient of several Gold and Silver Media Awards from Garden Communicators International (formerly GWA).

She gardens in a rural corner of Northern Virginia, working with an ever-evolving mixture of tropical, temperate, and native plants, and shares her gardening life each week on smalltowngardener.com.

Colonel Roland D Guidry is a retired US Air Force pilot with an extensive background in Special Operations and Counter Terrorism. He flew 111 Top Secret combat missions and 800 combat flying hours in Vietnam. As a pilot and squadron commander, he was on the lead C-130 on the Iran Hostage Rescue Mission in April 1980. He was also involved in a POW rescue mission in North Vietnam and in the rescue of US medical students on the island of Grenada. He was a founding member and the first Chief of Air Operations for JSOC, the Top Secret military unit to which Seal Team 6 and the helicopters that eliminated Osama Bin Laden are assigned. His other experiences involved piloting ski model C-130s in Alaska and Greenland. He has been inducted in the Hall of Fame of several military organizations. He is one of the participants of the Iran Hostage Rescue Mission interviewed in the documentary film entitled "Desert One", available now on most streaming media sites such as YouTube, Amazon Prime, etc., and eventually on the History Channel.

US NAVY SCPO Kenton Stacy grew up in Greenville, Ohio, a small farming community. Growing up, Kenton loved BMX biking and competed in competitions during high school. He also had a passion for construction, working for Habitat for Humanity after high school graduation, building homes for families in need. Kenton and his wife Lindsey were high school sweethearts, and soon after they married, Kenton joined the U.S. Navy. Although he initially planned on serving four years before enrolling in college, Kenton loved both the military community and his job as an Explosive Ordinance Disposal (EOD) technician, so he chose to continue his life in the military. On November 19, 2017, while serving in Syria, Kenton was severely injured by an Improvised Explosive Device (IED). As a result of the blast, Kenton became a quadriplegic and was blinded in his left eye. He also experiences issues with speech. Kenton has undergone extensive rehabilitation in several facilities including the TIRR (The Institute for Rehabilitation and Research) Memorial Hermann in Houston, Texas. Kenton has received numerous awards for his service including a Purple Heart, a Bronze Star Medal, and three Navy Achievement Medals. He is proud to have been named the 2010 USO Sailor of the Year.
